STAR 2016

Detailed Descriptions

Check-In: Students will check in to the STAR program, pick up their ID card and receive any materials they will need for that day. With their guests, they will also be able to visit info tables from Athletics, Disability Resource Center, Purdue Alumni Student Experience (PASE), Food Allergies, Student Employment, Purdue University Student Health Center (PUSH), Information Technology at Purdue (ITAP), Student Activities Office (SAO) and Residence Dining while waiting for the University Welcome to begin.

University Welcome: The University will welcome the new students and their guests to the STAR program and present information about the STAR program.

Lunch: Students will eat together with the other members of their track and with their assigned STAR Ambassador in Ford Dining Court.

Academic Advising: Students will receive academic advice at their colleges and plan for their initial course schedule.

Hot Spot: Students will be able to visit with various campus offices centered around one location. Students will be led to the Bell Tower (the Hot Spot) and released to visit one or more of the following areas:

Foreign Language Testing: Students have the option to take a foreign language placement examination. Those students who choose not to participate in testing will be encouraged to visit some of the Hot Spot (alt Hot Spot) activities they have missed earlier or may not be able to get to later.

Registration Labs Open: STAR Ambassadors will lead their student groups to the computer lab designated for the students’ college. At these labs, students, with multiple layers of support, will create their initial course schedule.

Reconnect with Families and Guests: Students and their guests may reconnect where they chose but are encouraged to use the Purdue Memorial Union Commons as a reconnection point. There they can visit the Student Employment Fair before leaving campus at the end of STAR.

Communication 114 (COM114) Test Out: COM 114 is the basic presentational course required by most majors. Credit is awarded to students who successfully pass a written exam and deliver a speech. For specific requirements please visit https://www.cla.purdue.edu/communication/undergraduate(COM_114.html.

University Residences Hall Tours: Students and Guests may visit the UR Alumni and Guest Center to get a glimpse of a residence hall room. This is available M-F 4:00-6:00 p.m.

Academic College Multicultural Reception: Stop by and get to know members of the Minority and Multicultural Program Directors group. These individuals work with a variety of student organizations and programs within the individual colleges (and across campus) designed to support student success.
