Kū Kia 'i Aloha: Indigenous Leadership and Governance Beyond the 'Nation Straight'

This is not simply a story detailing the violences of the state, racial capitalism, and the ongoing removal of Indigenous peoples from our lands. This is an abolitionist mo'olelo that centers genuine security and celebrates what we continue to build in the face and aftermath of all the colonial violences that have come for our lands, our bodies, and our dreams.

Asian & Asian American Purdue Students' Views on Mindfulness Research Participants Requested

Hello!

My name is Naisargi (Ness) Mehta, a second-year doctoral student in counseling psychology at Purdue University. I am currently working on a research project under the direction of Dr. Eric Deemer and we are looking to recruit participants for our study on how Asian and Asian American undergraduate students identify with mindfulness (Purdue University Protocol #2022-1570).

For this study, you will be asked to fill out a Qualtrics survey that will take approximately 10-12 minutes to complete.

You are eligible to participate if you are -

1. 18 years or older
2. Identify as Asian and/or Asian American
3. Enrolled in an undergraduate program at Purdue University

There are no serious risks involved in participating in this study and you may quit your participation at any time without prejudice from the investigators.

If you are interested in participating in the current study and fit the eligibility criteria, kindly fill out this Qualtrics form.

Please feel free to forward this information to Asian and/or Asian American Purdue students that you know who may be eligible to participate. If you have any questions about this study, you may contact me at mehta214@purdue.edu.

Thank you very much for considering this request to participate in this research study.

Sincerely,
Naisargi (Ness) Mehta, M.S.Ed.

Research project “Interpret the World and Change It: Overcoming Barriers to Positive Social Change”

IRB NUMBER: IRB-2022-1098

In this project, we are examining if there are universal barriers to positive social change with a focus on how social change is perceived as a concept around the world, what issues of social change participants feel are most important, and what influences participants’ awareness of the need for social change.

We are looking for student participants from universities around the world to take the anonymous survey that we created. Participating in this survey is completely voluntary and no identifiable information will be collected; participants will remain completely anonymous. Participants must be 18 years of age or older.

You can review our survey via this link:

https://purdue.ca1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_e9Alpr8kDn5PtXI

If you have any questions or concerns about the research, please contact our PI: Dr. Lee Artz, Purdue University Northwest, artz@pnw.edu or Purdue's Institutional Review Board (IRB) at irb@purdue.edu.
