Review of the Week

The AAARCC and the NAECC hosted our annual Friendsgiving event on November 20th.
Thank you all for attending!

On Thursday, November 16th, the AAARCC, NAECC, and Department of Human Development and Family Studies partnered in Speaker Series event featuring Chantel Cloud (Member, Southern Ute Indian Tribe and former Chief Justice of the Southern Ute Tribal Courts in Colorado) and Patrick Armstrong (Podcaster, Speaker, and Creator of The Janchi Show and Conversation Piece). The program centered on the Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) and transracial adoptees' journeys of identity.

This Fall 2023 semester, students in Dr. Yiwei Huang's (the Department of Horticulture and Landscape Architecture) LA 325 class have been working on designs to reimagine Cultural Centers and 5th Street area landscaping. Through visits to the Center, students combine focus on sustainability with cultural center initiatives in their design process. Thank you, Professor Huang and students, for inviting the AAARCC into your design review presentations!

On Thursday, November 16th, the AAARCC hosted our last Lunch and Learn of the Fall 2023 semester featuring Dr. Yi Gao, Associate Professor in the School of Aviation and Transportation Technology at Purdue. We will see you back at the Spring 2024 Lunch and Learn series!

On Tuesday, November 14th, the Asian American and Asian Faculty and Staff Caucus (PAAAC) launched its inaugural event. The meeting gave attendees opportunities to learn about the history and founding process of the group, and think about future goals.

Community Programs/Updates

Dance Theatre of Harlem
Tuesday, January 16, 2024
Time: 7 PM
Location: Elliott Hall of Music
Cost: Free

Each year, Purdue celebrates the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. through a commemorative event that honors his life's work in civil rights and social justice. This Convos season, the Dance Theatre of Harlem will elevate this annual event with their stunning, passionate choreography and performance.

Founded in 1969, the Dance Theatre of Harlem is an institution of unparalleled global acclaim, and the 18-member, multi-ethnic company performs a forward-thinking repertoire that uses the language of ballet to celebrate the belief that the art form belongs to everyone. Dance Theatre of Harlem is not just a dance company– they are a singular presence in the ballet world, an elegant example of what is possible when an inclusive approach to art is allowed to evolve and thrive.
