Review of the Week

The AAARCC hosted Dr. Michael Viega (Associate Professor, Music Therapy at Montclair State University and Fellow, Association of Music and Imagery) in his visit to Purdue University. Dr. Viega has been working with the AAARCC Research Lab team and Health Disparity Research Lab (Co-PIs Dr. Pamela K. Sari and Dr. Stewart Chang Alexander) in research on music and identity development of Asian/American adolescents in the Midwest.

Dr. Viega visited classes in American Studies and Public Health, and spoke at the AAARCC's Lunch and Learn event. He discussed with many students about music therapy as a field and its contributions to health and well-being journey of both individuals and communities.

ENGAGEMENT & SERVICE-LEARNING SUMMIT: Student Showcase

Office of Engagement

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Students across Purdue's campuses are invited to present their service-learning or engagement projects in one of two formats:

POSTER

A wide-format poster that explains the project and its impact

CREATIVE DISPLAY

A creative demonstration or interactive display that captures the story of the project and its impact

Students may re-use a poster or creative display from a previous event or develop a new one. All accepted submissions will be showcased both in-person and on the event website. The top three in each category will be awarded cash prizes of $150, $100, and $50, respectively. Interested students should submit an abstract (max 150 words) by Monday, February 5, 2024, 5:00 PM ET via the application survey. More info can be found on the Showcase info site.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 29TH, 2024 • 4:00 - 5:30 PM ET

DISCOVERY LEARNING RESEARCH CENTER | 298 NIMITZ DR, WEST LAFAYETTE, IN 47906

HTTPS://WWW.PURDUE.EDU/ENGAGEMENT/SUMMIT/

Students from across Purdue's campuses are invited to showcase community engagement projects as part of service-learning courses or engagement organizations at the Engagement and Service-Learning Summit on Thursday, February 29, 2024, from 4:00-5:30 PM ET at the Discovery Learning Research (DLR) Center. The goal of the session is to showcase student efforts with faculty, community partners, and other students rather than judge them.

Submissions will be accepted as posters or creative displays. The top three submissions in each category (poster and creative display) will be awarded cash prizes of $150, $100, and $50, respectively. Check out the Summit event site and Showcase info site for more information.

To apply for the Showcase, submit a brief abstract (max 150 words) by Monday, February 5, 2024, 5:00 PM ET via the application survey.

Questions about the Showcase may be directed to Carly Evich, Graduate Assistant for Service-Learning, at cevich@purdue.edu. Other questions about the Summit may be directed to Robert Elliot, Lead Event Planner, at relliot@purdue.edu.

SPIRaL: Student Partners for Information Research and Literacy | Undergraduate Research Program

Unit: The Institute for Information Literacy at Purdue (in the Libraries & School of Information Studies)

Program Overview:

SPIRaL trains a team of undergraduate researchers to investigate how information literacy can inform real-world solutions to contemporary information challenges, such as mis/disinformation. For the 2024-2025 academic year, SPIRaL will explore information challenges affecting the field of journalism. SPIRaL researchers will interview student journalists at Purdue and other universities about their perceptions of how information challenges, such as misinformation, affect the field of journalism and in their own journalistic practice. In SPIRaL, students are research partners who make decisions, build relationships with research mentors, and contribute to the success of future SPIRaL researchers.

Program Details:

- Academic-year undergraduate research program (August 19, 2024 - May 3, 2025)
- 6-8 hour time commitment per week with required in-person research group meetings
- Academic credit through enrollment in ILS 235 (2 credits in fall) and ILS 236 (1 credit in spring)
- $1,000 annual stipend (paid in $500 installments per semester)
- Guidance from research mentors in the Institute for Information Literacy at Purdue
- Opportunities to attend talks, workshops, and trainings from other units at Purdue
- Present or publish research findings

Required Qualifications:

- Undergraduate student with an expected graduation date of no sooner than May 2025
- Interest in research and information challenges
- Ability to dedicate 6-8 hours per week of quality time and effort to SPIRaL activities
- Desire to work on a dynamic team and contribute through shared decision-making
- Initiative to complete independent tasks on-time and communicate progress
- Strong written and oral communication skills
- While not a requirement, we find it helpful for students to be in their second or third year in college

How to Apply:

Fill out this short Qualtrics form no later than Friday, March 22 at 11:59pm. You will need a current resume and a 1-page description of your interest in SPIRaL ready to attach to the form. If you have any questions, please contact Rachel Fundator (rfundato@purdue.edu).
