Undergraduate and Graduate Admissions Update

3/1/2024

Undergraduate Admissions Update

- Demand for a Purdue degree continues to be strong – applications are up again this year!
- Recruiting activities are underway for Purdue University in Indianapolis.
- The Enrollment Management leadership team is fully staffed with outstanding talent.
- In the process of rebuilding and reimagining our technology platform.

Impact of FAFSA Delays

- FAFSA delays impact higher education institutions across the country.
- Most peer institutions are extending deadlines to May 15 or June 1.

New Beginners

- Award notifications
*Target of late April
- Contingent on Department of Education
- Contingent on software upgrade from Ellucian

Continuing Students

- Award notifications
*Target of mid-June
(consistent with previous year timeline)
- Summer packaging will be delayed

Graduate Students

- Award notifications
*Target of mid-June
(consistent with previous year timeline)
- Summer packaging will be delayed

Our Response to FAFSA Delays

- Purdue extended deposit deadline from May 1 to May 15.
- Purdue extended housing deadlines to coincide with deposit deadline (May 5 and May 19).
- If there are more delays from the Department of Education or Ellucian, the best solution for students and families is to provide them more time for this important decision.
- Continue to monitor peers.
- Further delays could impact student's ability to find a place to live given the tight housing market.

New Beginners

- Loading all data available now that is not reliant on the FAFSA
- Financial Aid team may work 7 days a week during this period
- Advisor appointments being adjusted to accommodate extended deadline

Continuing Students

- For summer enrollment, we may delay billing due dates and waive late fees
- Study abroad trips (start early May) – looking at possible loan programs for these students

Graduate Students

- For summer enrollment, we may delay billing due dates and waive late fees

Graduate Student Admissions and Enrollment

- Nearly 18,000 applications for Fall 2024 admission.
- Graduate and professional enrollment continues to be strong.

West Lafayette - Record High 12,136
